Congress has designated 1972 as National Parks Centennial Year and established a National Parks Centennial Commission to celebrate the beginning of the national park idea with appropriate ceremonies, culminating in the Second World Conference on National Parks. This international conference will be held in September 1972 in Yellowstone and Grand Teton National Parks. Delegates representing many countries will examine the role of parks in a time of deepening environmental crisis and look for ways to strengthen and extend the national park idea throughout the world.

This new park concept is exemplified by Wolf Trap Farm Park, the first national park for the performing arts. Cultural parks are a response to the critical need to preserve significant elements of the American cultural heritage which may soon disappear. The traditional life styles and customs of Indian people, as well as existing cultural patterns of other groups, are eminently worthy of preserving.

National Capital Parks, D.C.-Md.-Va.	7,054.05	.....	7,054.05	Park system of the Nation's Capital is comprised of 704 reservations: 689 in D.C.; 9 in Md.; 6 in Va. When Congress established a permanent National Capital in 1790, the city's Federal Commissioners were given the power "to purchase or accept such quantity of land as the President shall deem proper for the use of the United States." Under this authority the Commissioners purchased Washington's first 17 public reservations and accepted donations of other lands required for the street system of L'Enfant's plan. Today some 301 park units derive from these lands. Office of Public Buildings and Public Parks of the National Capital abolished and public reservations transferred to National Capital Parks, National Park Service, Aug. 10, 1933.	1100 Ohio Dr. SW., Washington, DC 20242

As the Nation's principal conservation agency, the Department of the Interior has basic responsibilities for water, fish, wildlife, mineral, land, park, and recreational resources. Indian and Territorial affairs are other major concerns of America's "Department of Natural Resources." The Department works to assure the wisest choice in managing all our resources so each will make its full contribution to a better United States—now and in the future.
